

SCOTIA WATERFRONT CONCEPT STUDY

Concept sketch of the waterfront area in the Village of Scotia, NY.

Total Study Cost: $32,500 ($30,000 consultant effort plus $2,500 in local in-kind services)

Description: CDTC will assist the Village with a consultant effort and CDTC staff support to facilitate a committee of community volunteers to analyze a waterfront planning concept study and transform that study into a master plan for the waterfront area adjacent to Collins Park. CDTC staff will work with the Village to review existing planning efforts completed to date, determine what pieces make sense for Scotia to move forward with and a consultant will develop a master plan for the study area. Elements of the study include a review of traffic circulation and parking, links to the Mohawk Avenue business district, and bicycle routing in Collins Park, through the Village and along the waterfront.

This study was completed in September 2009.
